All Eyes on Ottawa as Coal Strike Continues

Tuesday's Meeting Between Union Executive and Government Brings No Solution; Situation in Pass Quiet.

The coal strike called by District 18, U.M.W.A., and involving 8,500 miners in Alberta and British Columbia is now in its fourth day with still no settlement between the union executive and federal government.

Conferences between the union executive, comprising Robert Livett, president; John Stokalski, district vice-president; and Donald McDonald and Michael Susnar, board members, and the minister of labor, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell; his assistant, Arthur MacNamara, and M. M. MacLean, assistant deputy minister, have been in progress since Tuesday morning.

All eyes are on Ottawa, as it will be from this point that official notice will be given to the miners to remain out or go back to work.

Practically every colliery in the two provinces is affected by the strike order which was signed by Robert Livett, district president, in line with a strike vote taken of the membership on Sept. 21 for an expression of the miners as to whether they were prepared to take strike action to enforce wage demands of the district convention.

Demands of the district convention were: A blanket increase of $2 per day for all employees of coal mines; time and a half and, in case of contract workers, rate and a half for the sixth day of the week; and two weeks annual holiday with pay for every man employed by a coal mine company for a year.

7,849 Favored Strike

In wiring union locals to strike at midnight Sunday "unless otherwise notified," Mr. Livett directed them to observe an agreement of the union with colliery operators whereby skeleton crews must work through a labor dispute to maintain workings and prevent damaging of underground workings.

Before making their recent demands, miners clamored for a uniform basic wage of $5.78 throughout the district, and increases were awarded by the National War Labor Board to men employed in certain fields.

When the strike vote was taken 7,849 men voted in favor of stopping work to enforce the demands. 399 were opposed to such action and 53 spoiled their ballots. Hundreds of others refrained from voting.

Coal shortages have already been encountered in Edmonton and Drumheller, as well as some of the smaller towns and villages. As far as Pass towns are concerned, however, the strike is still of too short duration to cause a fuel hardship among citizens. Wood supplies are said to be quite good, and if the worst came to the worst the hills are close by where timber is fairly plentiful.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS

Any person or persons going to British Columbia from agricultural areas or industrial areas, particularly on holidays with the expectation of securing work, British Columbia National Selective Service Offices will request a National Selective Service Clearance Certificate from every person applying for work. Unless this certificate is obtained before leaving, considerable inconvenience, and loss of time may be caused to any applicant seeking work.

The Journal acknowledges with thanks new subscriptions received this week from Pte. Peter Smith, overseas, and Mrs. W. Sicking, of Vancouver.

Let's Reach Our Quota

DON'T LET OUR BOYS DOWN NOW! Buy More Bonds

After four years of war the Germans still occupy all the countries they have invaded. The Japs still hold most of the territory they took. The Russians are fighting to regain their own country. The Chinese are fighting to regain China. On the battle front we're just getting going. On the home front we must keep on going. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

If everybody in this community buys Victory Bonds...

If those who have bought bonds buy more bonds...

We will help to speed the Victory.

Let's not be satisfied with anything less than the best that we can do.

If you have bought bonds with cash you had on hand—buy more bonds on the convenient savings plan, which spreads your payments over a six months' period.

Let's go out for a record that will give us something to talk about and make others talk about us.

May Go Over The Top Friday Eve. Or Sat. Morning

Bellevue Going Strong; Blairmore's Efforts Hampered by Fire at Greenhill.

Coleman's loan subscriptions stood at $83,300 this morning against a $102,000 quota. Purchases have been good during the past two weeks and a half and it is expected that Coleman will go "over the top" Friday evening or Saturday morning. Many call backs have to be made as well as picking up promised subscriptions on Friday and Saturday.

Bellevue-Hillcrest has surged back strongly after dropping down badly for three days last week. They now stand at $62,850 against a $76,000 quota. Walter Warn expects to get the quota on Saturday morning.

Bill Chappell's Blairmore-Frank unit hit real rough going this week when fire broke out at the Greenhill Collieries. It is still unchecked and a serious view is being taken as to how serious the damage may be before the fire is finally extinguished. As a result a number of Blairmore citizens are now with holding bond purchases. The drive ends in three more days and since Blairmore has collected only $55,650 of a $91,000 quota it appears very doubtful if the quota can be secured.

Despite the fact that this is the Fifth Victory Loan we have in our midst some people who still think this war does not concern them and as a result the canvasser meets a cold reception when he knocks at their door. No amount of talk or literature can get it across to them that the war concerns them just as vitally as it does their neighbor and that they should support it with their dollars as well as the sweat of their brow. They are not the only ones with heavy tax deductions. Come on, fellows, reconsider your decision not to buy bonds. We need your help and your money in order that we may relay that help to the boys on the battle fronts. They fight YOUR battle at risk of life and limb. Idle dollars are no good to you or your government. Invest them in the best investment Canada can offer—Victory Bonds.

The following message has been received from Major-General G. G. Simonds, commanding Canadian forces in Italy, in support of the Fifth Victory Loan campaign:

"In Italy Canadian soldiers realize only constantly increasing pressure will bring final enemy collapse. Are not sparing themselves achieve that end. Urge all Canadians back this effort by purchasing an extra Victory Bond during next three days to help Speed the Victory."

SMILE AWHILE

Customer (heatedly)—You ought to be in the war instead of in the grocery store.

Proprietor—What makes you say that?

Customer—No enemy could stand up to the way you charge.

Johnny (at zoo)—Isn't that monkey just like Uncle James?

Mother—Don't be so rude.

Johnny—But the monkey didn't hear.

Judge—Why did you steal the lady's carpet?

Tramp—I did not.

Judge—She says you did.

Tramp—She said take the carpet and beat it.

Husband—My dear wife, I have taken you safely over all the rough spots of life, haven't I?

Wife—Yes, I don't believe you missed any of them.

Wife—What's the idea of poking the broom in the baby's face this morning?

Hubby—I just wanted to get him used to kissing his grandfather.

Man—Watcha cryin' for?

Boy—I lost my nickel.

Man—Where?

Boy—In Virginia.

Man—How come?

Boy—She swallowed it.

"Have you got so that you can distinguish classical music?" asked Mrs. Newrich.

"I think so," replied her husband.

"When a piece threatens every minute to be a tune and always disappoints you, it's classical."

Judge—It seems to me I've seen you before.

Prisoner—You have, your Honor. I gave your daughter singing lessons.

Judge—Thirty years!

"Johnnie, what did you have for breakfast?"

"Teacher, I ate six eggs."

"Why, Johnnie! You should say 'ate'."

"Well, maybe it was 'eight' that I ate."

Captain—Well, Private Smith, what did you have for dinner?

Private—Taters, sir.

Captain (to sergeant)—What does he mean by "taters," sergeant?

Sergeant—It's only his ignorance, sir. He means "spuds."

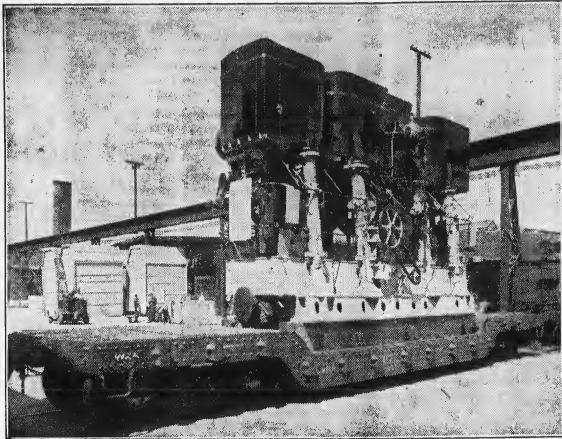

Lord Blank (on telephone)—Hello! Hello! Please reserve a box for two for tomorrow night.

Voice—Sorry, our boxes are only for one.

Lord Blank—What do you mean? Aren't you the Grand Theatre?

Voice—No. I'm Smith; the undertaker.

Marine Engines Made And Carried By C.P.R.

Huge marine engines for Canada's busy shipyards are here shown on a Canadian Pacific Railway depressed-centre flat car ready for shipment from the C.P.R.'s Angus Shops in Montreal, where they have been made since the completion of an order there for 1,400 Valentine tanks which saw battle service in Russia and North Africa. In being carried to their destination in Quebec City the engines require special handling to squeeze them past permanent installations such as bridges with advice on their movement being given by the company's engineering department.

Nazis And The Church

No Teaching Of Christianity For The New Order In Germany

"Nothing will prevent me from tearing up Christianity root and branch—and annihilating it in Germany. We are not out against the hundreds and one different kinds of Christianity, but against Christianity itself."—Hitler.

"Both the Catholic Church and the Evangelical Confessional Church, as they exist at present, must vanish from the life of our people."—Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi "cultural expert."

"The teaching of mercy and love of one's neighbor is foreign to the German race, and the Sermon on the Mount is . . . an ethic for cowards and idiots."—From Nazi textbook, "Bohsheism in the Bible."

PROTEIN CONTENT OF WESTERN WHEAT

For the 12-year period 1927-1938, the average protein content of shipments of Western Canadian wheat is estimated as 13.5 per cent. If no wheat had been shipped from the northern zone, says the report of a recent investigation, the average protein level would have increased by about 0.5 per cent.

No Doubt About It

But Certificates Will Prove Your Compulsory Savings Are Secure

Great numbers of Canadian taxpayers will be glad to receive the certificates showing the amounts of compulsory war savings standing to their credit. Mischievous talk has sown doubt regarding these funds, and some glib persons have believed the alarmists who said: "You will never see that money again." These certificates give the lie to that dangerous whispering and should reassure the public that their compulsory savings are just as secure, and as certain of being repaid to them with interest after war, as money in the bank. Canada's pledge stands behind these funds, and Canada has never broken her solemn word.—Hamilton Spectator.

PREPARE FOR THE DAY

Boys and girls, in woodworking shops throughout Britain, now are making "surprise" boxes which will be packed with foodstuffs, comforts, chocolates and cigarettes for distribution to the conquered people of Europe when they are freed of the Nazis.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 7

THE SACREDNESS OF HUMAN LIFE

Golden text: Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer. 1 John 3:15. Lesson: Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26, 38-45. Devotional Reading: James 4:1-10.

Explanations and Comments

The Sacredness of Human Life, Exodus 20:13. The sixth commandment reads: Thou shalt not kill. The Hebrew word translated "kill" is not the usual word for that verb, and the English Revised Version (not the American) translates the sentence, "Thou shalt do no murder," indicating that the prohibition does not include every kind of killing but only that kind which we call murder.

In our courts one who kills another in order to save his own life or the lives of others, or who kills another accidentally, is charged with manslaughter, not with murder. One who commits murder is actuated by personal motive or passion. The soldier in battle is not actuated by any personal feeling against the one whom he kills; he is fighting for his country, for the lives of others, and does not violate this commandment. Jesus extends the Sixth Commandment to include Angry Words and Feelings of Hatred, Matthew 5:21-26. Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment. "In danger of" originally meant "in the power of," as Shakespeare's use in the sentence "You stand within his danger, do you not?" shows. The Greek verb means "held" or "bound by," hence "liable, subject to." "The judgment" was the lower Jewish court, the local tribunal of seven men found in every village. "But I say unto you." Five times in the first part of the Sermon on the Mount these words are repeated that he may not demand the fulfillment of the Mosaic law but in each case carry its fulfillment beyond the letter of the law into the realm of the spirit of the law. "But I say unto you, that everyone who is angry with his brother shall be in danger of the judgment." Jesus forbids the breaking of the law in thought; he traces the sin back to its source and forbids the angry thought that leads to the angry word and sometimes to the angry deed of murder. "The hand must not strike the murderous blow," said Moses. "The thought that dwells upon the possibility, the desire, of striking the blow is equally guilty," declares Jesus.

Since anger is wicked, one should seek reconciliation early with another whom one has offended. If therefore you are offering your gift at the altar and remember that your brother holds anything against you, do not postpone your duty of seeking reconciliation to a more convenient time, but, leaving your gift there, go at once and become reconciled with him, then return to present your gift.

IN HIS COUNTRY'S SERVICE

A Salvation Army lassie whispered to a young veteran of a naval action: "I'm sorry you lost your arm." He shook his head and replied: "I didn't lose it, me'am. I gave it."

CHAPTER IX.

THE girl straightened at Jonathan's step and turned, the eyes in the slit of the white mask watchful as she backed against the desk. She was obviously trying to screen from Jonathan the object that had been engaging her attention. But Jonathan had glimpsed already his own purse and the gold scattered over the little table-top.

"Well, my girl," Jonathan raised his brows, "has Sir Maurice paid you so little that you must steal from me? Or have you some ready explanation for your presence in my quarters?"

The girl lifted her hand and slowly removed the mask from her face. "I did not come to steal, Jonathan."

The man stared open-mouthed, thunderstruck with amazement. The surprise that had been his when confronted unexpectedly with Lord Farquhar was nothing compared to the shock that went through him now at sight of the girl's face. He had not been mistaken, then, about that reddish hair—

"Anne!" he managed to gasp. Anne Jamieson nodded. "Yes, Jonathan, we meet again. More than a long stride took him to the desk beside her. But before his outstretched arms could close about her, the girl said:

"Do not touch me—you murderer!"

"Anne!" He tried to smile. "Surely you recognize me—Jonathan Hale?"

"I recognized you down in the ball room," she said stonily. "I joined those mummies merely to come here to see for myself Master John Hale, about whom all London is talking, was the Jonathan Hale I knew. I did not see how a poor Puritan from Winnipeg could be the new beau of London unless—"

"ANNE, I do not care what you hear I thank God that you are free. Ever since you ran away from me the thought that you were in the power of Farquhar has kept me in torment." He gestured toward a chair. "If you will sit down, Anne, I shall tell you everything that happened."

"No need to explain, Master Hale. I know how you have achieved all the magnificence in which I find you. When you entered this room, it was in your mind to turn me over to the watch as a thief. Summon the authorities if you wish, Jonathan, I, too, have a story for their ears."

Once again he was taken aback. "Anne—what do you mean?"

For answer she turned, lifting the masked purse, holding the flap so he could view the scolded lettering stamped into the leather. "Chacun a son sort," she read the French words for him and translated: "Every man to his taste." That was Denys' favorite motto, Jonathan, and this was his purse. Almost every actor in the theatres of London can identify it as his property."

"I see," he nodded. "Then you believe, Mistress Anne, that I killed Denys?"

"What else am I to think?" she countered. Then, in spite of herself, her voice faltered.

"You need more than a mask to hide yourself from me, Mistress Anne," he said with a cold smile. "I spotted you among those mimics and hunted you as soon as the pagent was ended. I lingered outside in the hall and overheard every word of this touching reunion."

"Put up that pistol, Farquhar," said Jonathan, "and have a sword downstairs and behind this house in a garden where we can settle our differences."

"I do not fight commoners." The sunken eyes reflected the coldness on the thin lips. "You forget that I have just learned that John Hale, gentlemen, is none other than the old-hopping Puritan from Winnipeg."

Jonathan smiled with deliberate contempt. "I had imagined that the treatment you received at my hands in a certain country tavern would be enough to cause you to overlook the differences in our stations."

The bony jaw bulged as Farquhar maintained reserve under the taunt. "I never thought, Jonathan Hale, that when I found you again I would let you live this long. But greater than my wish to carve you into another desire—so great that I may even let you go scot-free."

He moved further forward, placing himself between the wardrobe and the door of the room. "You may as well take chairs," he said. "This conversation may be lengthy."

JONATHAN eyed the raised hammer of the pistol, then allowed Farquhar to wave him back. His lordship had the upper hand now, but if the fellow were allowed to talk, his vigilance would relax and the "I had Monsieur Denys killed," began Farquhar, "because I believed him to be in love with Mistress Denys. I ordered the death of the wrong man." His eyes shifted to Jonathan. "You realize your position, Hale? A word from me will excuse you, and you can send you to the gallows for the murder of Monsieur Denys."

"No," Anne cried involuntarily. "No, lord, not that!"

Jonathan stirred in his chair. "If you intend to have me jailed, let us go downstairs and have your story."

"I would prefer," murmured his lordship, "to have the suggestion come from Mistress Jamieson."

Anne accepts Farquhar's proposition.

Old-Timers Appreciated

Record Chalked Up By Members Of The Gutta Percha & Rubber Limited

Imagine working for one firm from 25 to 56 years!

That's the record chalked up by 266 members of the Gutta Percha & Rubber Limited, staff throughout Canada.

So unique in the history of the rubber industry of Canada—or even of Canadian industry at large is this record that the firm celebrated by forming a 25 Year Club and presenting to each of the members an engraved gold watch.

In Toronto over a thousand employees gathered on October 8th, at a reception in the Royal York Hotel to the 244 Old-timers from that city and the President Mr. F. A. Warren told them of his warm affection and respect for all his "old friends" and regretted that he could not be present at like banquets held on the same day at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Montreal and Halifax for 22 other members of the 25 Year Club while at Edmonton, October 15 is the date.

The Honorary President of the 25 Year Club is Walter J. Scott, a senior member with 56 years service to its credit, and on behalf of the Charter Members he presented a desk set to Mr. Warren.

There is something heart-warming and non-commercial about a firm which so respects and recognizes its men who have been faithful and loyal. That is the hope of the future of the nation, too, because without this spirit wars will have been fought in vain. After all one quarter of a staff numbering over 1,000 to have served 25 years or more is some record!

NEWFOUNDLAND'S WAR EFFORT

Out of a male population in Newfoundland of 40,000 between the ages of 20 and 40, more than a quarter have volunteered to serve abroad. Numbers of these men are with Newfoundland Artillery Regiments of the United Kingdom forces; with the Royal Navy, the Royal Air Force, the Merchant Marine and the Forestry Unit. Many have enlisted in the Canadian armed forces.

Vermilion Oil Wells

Railway Is Taking Entire Output For Western Lines

R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways, announced that Canmar Oil Limited, a subsidiary of the C.N.R., has begun production of fuel oil from wells at Vermilion, Alta., for the railway's locomotives in western Canada.

Canmar Oils controls 620 acres of Vermilion, where 20 wells have been drilled, 10 of which are producing 350 barrels a day. A total of 50 wells is planned.

In addition, the railway is taking the entire output of the Vermilion refinery company's treating plant close to Vermilion, the announcement said.

"We are opening the wells," Mr. Vaughan said, "as a wartime measure of precaution to secure an adequate supply and reserve of fuel oil for the railway's western services."

Calories And Crackers

Great Difference In The Calorie Values Of Different Foods

(By Molly O'Dale)

Calories are units of measurement used by nutritionists to express the potential energy values of foods and the energy requirements of the human body. Calories have nothing to do with food classifications, such as proteins, fats or carbohydrates, or with vitamins.

The number of calories needed each day varies according to age, sex and character of employment, from 900 calories needed by an infant up to 4500 needed by men engaged in very active work. Adults of both sexes, regardless of activity, should never have less than 2500 calories per day.

There are great differences in the calorie values of different foods. Butter ranks highest, with 3375 calories to the pound. Biscuits and soda crackers come next with 1776 to the pound, with cheese ranking third at 1670 calories to the pound. The lowest of all is spinach, which has only 110 calories to the pound.

There is unquestionably a sound scientific basis for the perennial popularity of crackers and cheese. This simple diet—buttered soda crackers with cheese, contains the three food items that are at the top of the calorie list.

The high calorie value of biscuits and crackers is due to the wheat flour and many other ingredients they contain, plus the elimination of moisture, or dehydration, which results in a crisp, tasty biscuit that can be kept almost indefinitely without risk of spoiling and to its adaptability in menu-making.

Japan Optimistic

High Officials Confident They Will Eventually Win The War

High Japanese officials appear to believe that Germany will collapse, but declare the war will continue for five years after that, a Chianan correspondent for Imperial of Santiago, returning home on the exchange ship Teia Maru, asserted.

The correspondent said the official Japanese position was that the German collapse would not affect the Japanese greatly because Japan was prepared to stand alone. On the other hand, the Japanese feel that Germany's fate is greatly affected by Japan's moves.

The correspondent, not a repatriate since his country is not at war with Japan, said so far as he was able to ascertain from outward appearance the Japanese people still are convinced they will win the war.

He said the Japanese had been relatively successful in winning the support of local populations in all parts of their captured territory except the Philippines, where the people remained hostile.

In the time of Queen Elizabeth, men often wrote a bill of fare in their wills. These specified the foods to be served at the feast following their funerals.

Even Small Cooks Can Make Perfect Muffins

Proud as punch is this very young lady as she turns out a batch of perfect muffins. She made them all by herself and declares it is as easy as can be. She is absolutely right. Muffins are made with the simplest of mixing operations. The only trick is this, don't over beat.

If you have a young daughter in your house, why not let her try her hand at muffins? Or why not try them yourself? Here is the recipe our juvenile chef pronounces "Simply Scrumptious!"

BEST BRAN MUFFINS

2 tablespoons shortening 1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar 1 cup flour
1 egg 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup All-Brn 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Brn and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 8 large muffins (8 inches in diameter); 12 small muffins (2 1/2 inches in diameter).

Note: When sour milk or buttermilk is used instead of sweet milk, reduce baking powder to one teaspoon and add 1/2 teaspoon soda.

I STOPPED "DOSING" MY CONSTIPATION AND CORRECTED THE CAUSE!

● In these busy days of war you owe it to your country—as well as to yourself—to keep "in the pink." That's why it's so important to avoid the common type of constipation caused by lack of "body" in the diet. And do it by getting right at the cause instead of "dosing" with harsh purgatives that give only temporary relief. Just follow this simple plan. Eat

● KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day! It's delicious as a cereal or in hot, tasty muffins. Drink plenty of water. Then see if you don't agree ALL-BRAN is the "better way" to natural regularity. But remember, eat ALL-BRAN every day!

$114 in "Shell Out" Cards Sold Locally For Hallowe'en

Cameron School Gave Concert For Students; Four Youngsters Wanted British Children to Get Milk.

J. M. Allan, local distributing agent for the Kinsmen's Shell-Out cards, reported that $114.09 had been collected from the sale of the cards, and this was in addition to the cards sold at Central school, no report having been received on the school sales.

Teachers at Cameron school sponsored a Hallowe'en concert for the youngsters, in co-operation with the Kinsmen's "Shell-Out" scheme. Some fruit was donated for the concert.

One local citizen reports four little youngsters came to her door on Hallowe'en and asked that they be given only the "Shell-Out" tickets and no fruit, "because we want the children in Britain to get all the milk they want," they chorused.

Mrs. George Ford Won Soldier's Parcel

Mrs. George Ford was the winner of the Soldier's Parcel raffle by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion at a whist drive last Friday.

Mrs. Ford, on the eve of the draw, asked ticket seller Evelyn Brown when the draw was to be made. On being told it was to take place that evening she bought a ticket from the young lady with the rider that if she won the parcel she would give it to Evelyn to send to her daddy, Lewis Brown, overseas. One can imagine Mrs. Ford's surprise shortly after the draw when Evelyn came running into her house exclaiming "Mrs. Ford, you have won the soldier's parcel!" Needless to say the parcel is now on its way overseas to Evelyn's daddy with Mrs. Ford's good wishes.

Whist winners were Mrs. W. Dutil and Mrs. E. Beart.

Mrs. Pardee Honored At Banquet

On Thursday, Oct. 28, Mrs. Pardee Provincial Secretary of the St. John Ambulance Association was the guest of the Coleman Branch. Several representatives from the Pass were also present.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by a minutes silence for the late Miss Mary Hillary, who, as an active member of the Association, was last year awarded the George Kellogg Memorial Shield.

Chairman A. McCulloch then introduced Mrs. Pardee. The Prov. Secretary dealt at some length with the new accounting system and the re-organization of divisions, which proved very instructive and very interesting. While Mrs. Pardee was most complimentary when speaking of the record of the Coleman Branch she stressed the point that we must not rest on our laurels, but strive to improve our standard.

Several other speakers, including Messrs. E. Morgan (Dist. Mines Inspector); D. Young (Bellevue); R. Oaks (Blairmore); H. Chamberlain (Mine Rescue Official) and Mr. J.O.C. McDonald added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Following lunch a very animated discussion, on various topics connected with the work of the Association, in which many of the members joined. Mrs. Pardee was able to clear up some points on which we were not clear, and herself raised a few questions which were discussed.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Cigarette Fund Notes

Dear Sir: Many thanks for the Sweet Caps just received. I wish the Legion every success in their good work.—Bob Burt.

Dear Sirs: Received cigarettes. They are coming through very well and are always welcome. Just had my leave and had a good time. Say hello to all and thanks again.—Oliver Barringham.

Dear Friends, Received the cigarettes. Thanks a million. Best regards to the Legion and citizens of Coleman.—U. DeCecco.

Dear Comrades: Many thanks for the cigs. received today. They sure are welcome. Things over here are coming along fine and we will have her over very shortly.—Lawrence Caroe.

Dear Sirs: Received your cigarettes today and wish to thank all persons responsible for sending them. I have been over here three years and have been receiving your cigarettes monthly and greatly appreciate your gifts. On behalf of the boys over here I thank you for the good work which you have been doing for us.—Ross Foster.

Dear Comrades: This is just a short letter to inform you that the few Coleman boys over here are well and hoping to be home very soon.

I saw Sydney Thomas the other day but only from a distance and I did not have an opportunity to talk to him. He was looking well. Leonard Hoyle is with another regiment here but I have not seen him since we were in Sicily, although I understand he is in good health.

Well, I am gradually becoming accustomed to the currency over here. The £100 I believe is equivalent to our Canadian nickel. The money goes a long way if discretion in spending is used.

The Italian towns are filled with fine old buildings, pictures and sculpture. There are many old Greek and Roman ruins, monuments, Medievel castles and churches so you see it is quite a sight-seeing tour for we Canadians. However despite every thing we'll all be happy when we return home. Hoping everyone is fine in Coleman.—Herman Hirsch.

Red Deer Council Approves Soldiers' Lot Idea

RED DEER—Proposal made recently for building lots to be given to returned soldiers found favor at this week's meeting of the city council, to which the board of trade referred it through a delegation of businessmen. Aldermen J. Bettenson, R. M. Beatty and W.P. Gordon were appointed to examine the available property.

The present plan is that lots be set aside in form of a memorial park, with returned servicemen to build their houses around it. H. J. Snell, originator of the idea, suggested to council that the proposed memorial subdivision should be fully modern, that it should contain a central playground, and that the houses should be built under city supervision. There is however, no thought of confining soldiers' lots to this particular section of the city.

Increase In Police Enforcement Of National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations

Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service announced today that arrangements had been made with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for increased enforcement activity with respect to men who have not complied with National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations.

"Wherever possible," Mr. MacNamara said, "municipal police authorities will be requested to assist in conducting raids on pool rooms, leverage rooms, taverns, bowling alleys, and other public places in apprehending persons who have not complied with the National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations. A check will be made as to the status of alleged delinquents with the records of the Registrars of Mobilization and prosecutions will follow in appropriate cases."

Police authorities will also check for cases of non-compliance with National Registration Regulations 1940, that is, persons will be questioned and asked to produce their registration cards.

Citizens Thanked For Loan of Pictures

May Secure Them From Local Stores or at Loan Headquarters Saturday Afternoon.

The local Victory Loan publicity chairman takes this opportunity of thanking all citizens who loaned pictures of local men and women in the armed forces to his department and so made the "Windows of Fame" such a grand success.

Much favorable comment has been received on the picture display and it served the purpose of bringing back to mind many of our boys and girls who for the past few years have been out of our midst.

Thanks are also extended to the Misses Margaret Tiffin, Helen Rogers, and Isobel Ewing for helping in the preliminary work, to Messrs. Dick Tiffin, Mike Opulski, Harold Houghton and Miss Yuill and her students for gathering pictures, to the Miss Canadas for distributing the pictures and especially to the merchants who gave the publicity department such grand co-operation by decorating their windows, featuring the pictures, so beautifully.

Thanks is also extended to the Coleman Elks and Lions clubs for their publicity banners. It had been hoped to better display these banners but strong winds prevented this being done. Also to Joe Janostak who was the craftsman who painted the various slogans on the store windows.

The campaign will be over on Saturday evening and citizens having pictures in the respective stores are asked to take custody of them from Friday morning on. Pictures will be gathered on Saturday afternoon from the stores and taken to loan headquarters where they can be secured by their owners.

SEVERAL CITIZENS SHOW INTEREST IN LEARNING TO PLAY BAGPIPES

As the result of a small advertisement appearing two weeks ago in The Journal, James Moore states that he has had five applications from interested citizens desiring to learn to play the bagpipes.

Mr. Moore, an accomplished bagpipe player and at one time the champion of Scotland, has agreed to teach his students free for at least fifteen months, the only expense to the student during that time will be about $9 for equipment. Two sets of bagpipes are available for teaching.

Mr. Moore is in high hopes of forming a Coleman pipe band once his students have mastered the bagpipes. Any interested persons wishing to receive lessons need only contact him at his East Coleman home.

STANDING OF UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE FUND

Figures issued to the press by the Unemployment Insurance Commission indicated that the balance remaining in the Unemployment Insurance Fund on September 30th this year stood at $150,177,084.86, of which $144,000,000 was being held by the Commission in Dominion of Canada Bonds. Gross revenues to date, plus interest earned by the Fund, amounted to $151,347,402.17. Of this sum $123,197,414.80 had been contributed by employers and employees through the purchase of unemployment insurance stamps and by direct payment; $24,639,482.97 had been paid by the Dominion Government as its share under the statute; and $3,510,504.40 representing interest earned by the Fund. Benefits paid since January 1942, when benefits first became payable, aggregate $1,170,317.31. The Unemployment Insurance Fund was inaugurated on July 1, 1941, when the first employer and employee contributions were required under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Girl Guide Notes

Well, we had our inspection, and, although it was not really an official one, we enjoyed it very much. It is quite delightful to have anyone as kind as Mrs. Pardee visit us. She was able to give us some very good help on some points on which we were not sure. We are looking forward to her next visit, when, perhaps she will be here on Guide business.

Our doll is getting quite a wardrobe. We hope to have her on display next week, and the tickets on sale, too, so we hope you will be waiting for us!

There was a small mistake in the paper last week—the Nursery to which we have been sending our parcels and from whom we received the pictures is at Amer-sham, and is made up of little children evacuated from London, and not an American nursery as it appeared last week.

Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign Oversubscribed

Bellevue-Hillcrest Gave Wonderful Support; Coleman Fell Short of Quota; Blairmore Finished Collections this Week

Official figures on the Salvation Army Red Shield campaign were released by Lieut. S. Nahirney on Tuesday afternoon and reveal that the Pass oversubscribed its quota of $1,000 by $100.

Coleman was just a little short of its $500 quota as only $440 was collected. The best showing was made by the Bellevue-Hillcrest division who given a quota of $100 raised a grand total of $425, $15 less than Coleman. Blairmore fell down this year and only raised $235 against a $400 quota.

All in all however Pass citizens are to be congratulated on their fine effort in this campaign. When one realizes the numerous calls made on their pocketbook the $1,000 is a very nice donation to the Salvation Army Red Shield campaign, and one which is greatly appreciated by Lieut. Nahirney.

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing vitally essential forest products; in base metal and coal mining, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack season on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.

HALIFAX SAYS THAT WAR IN EUROPE HAS REACHED A POINT WHEN ANYTHING MAY HAPPEN

WASHINGTON. — The war in Europe has reached a point where "anything may happen" in Hitler's Germany, Viscount Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, said here. Back from two months in Britain, the ambassador said it was perfectly logical to believe today that an internal crack-up in Germany may come at any time. But the diplomat advised everyone to keep his fingers crossed, not to count too heavily on a sudden collapse.

Asked to elaborate, he said it must be apparent to many Germans now that they cannot win the war. But the Germans are tough, resourceful fighters and their civilian setup is a closely geared but perhaps brittle machine.

Lord Halifax declined to hazard a guess whether the German army or the civilian side of Germany will crack first.

He declined to be pinned down to definite dates on the defeat of Germany, but he left a clear impression among 100 newspapermen who heard him at the British embassy, that he regards the crackup of Germany to be certain and perhaps more imminent than might be expected.

The ambassador said he returned to Washington with many impressions of Britain as she entered the fifth year of war. Some of these were:

1. There is confidence everywhere that the war is reaching a climax without, at the same time, any slackening of effort or will.

2. Consumer goods are short and hard to find, the food wholesome but dull, without variety.

3. Manpower and womanpower have been mobilized to the limit, with women up to 50 conscripted for work. The result is the people are getting tired, feeling the strain and there has been some labor trouble lately in shipyards and coal mines. But there is little or no grumbling.

The ambassador said he was struck particularly at the amount of thinking the British people are doing on post-war problems. The development of an American foreign policy is being watched closely.

The British people, he continued, are determined that those who fought together to win the peace shall stick together to enforce it.

There can be no disarmament of the victors this time, he suggested, although enemy countries must be disarmed.

JAPAN WORRIED

Fears Air Raids And Industries Being Moved From Cities

LONDON.—Japanese worries over the possibilities of air raids were reflected in a "complete reorganization of the air raid precaution system" calling for the evacuation of the population of large towns.

The Berlin radio reported the plans, saying they were announced in the Japanese diet by Kishiburo Ando, minister of interior.

Transfer of industries to rural parts of the country is to be speeded up, the broadcast said.

BUY MORE FOOD

Canadians Purchased More In 1942 Than In Any Other Year

VANCOUVER.—Canadians bought more food by volume during 1942 than in any previous year and spent a larger percentage of income on food, W. A. Congdon, management service consultant of the prices board, told a meeting of food retailers.

In an address Mr. Congdon forecast that the volume of food available for sale during the coming year would be approximately the same as this year, but there would be further reduction in the volume of certain large profit items.

"The wartime prices and trade board is determined to maintain nutritional requirements for the Canadian consumer," he said. "This policy is being adhered to vigorously in all consultations concerning the export of foodstuffs to the United Nations and in the storing of foods for occupied countries."

PLEASED WITH HELP

Alberta Was Well Satisfied With Work Done By Harvesters

EDMONTON.—The Alberta government was "more than satisfied" with help received from members of the armed forces on the farm duty plan and with the job done by Ontario harvesters this year, Hon. D. Bruce MacMillan, minister of agriculture, said. He said he has already expressed "great satisfaction" with results obtained to Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Dominion labor minister.

"The harvesters from Ontario were a fine group of men," he said. "Generally speaking, soldiers on farm duty working in Alberta fields also did an excellent job."

STORE SALES INCREASE

OTTAWA.—Dollar value of sales in Canadian department stores during September, including mail order business, was three per cent. higher than sales in September last year, the unadjusted index on the base 1935-1939 equals 100 standing at 159.1 compared with 154.9, the Dominion bureau of statistics said.

SAYS CANADA MUST PREPARE TO CO-OPERATE WITH OTHER NATIONS IN POST-WAR YEARS

WINNIPEG.—Canada must prepare for "dividends for democracy" with a planned program for co-operation with other nations in the post-war years, H. H. Hannam of Toronto, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said in an address here.

He spoke at the annual banquet meeting of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, outlining proposals made at the United Nations food conference held at Hot Springs, Va.

"We cannot have a well balanced and stable economy in Canada unless we work out a godly measure of understanding with food exporting and food importing countries," he said. "Dozens of smaller and less fortunate countries are looking to us for a lead."

Implementation of the Hot Springs conference recommendations would mean that never again would huge food surpluses be permitted to depress disastrously low farm prices of the depression years, he said.

The post-war production program was divided into three periods at the conference—the short term period immediately after the war; the second covering the years required to shift and re-adjust production, and third the long-time period with an objective of more and more of the right kinds of food for all the world. Adoption of the recommendations, he said, should mean in the years immediately following the war there would be an unlimited demand for cereals, to fight famine and save millions from starvation.

"In the transition or second period, there will come the need to change over our production program to protective foods such as meat, milk, eggs and fruit," he said. "In Canada, we should expect expanding world markets for livestock and livestock products and for fruits and vegetables."

Mr. Hannam said that the third period would see the encouragement of large scale wheat and grain production in western Canada, an area best suited for such crops.

For eastern Canada farmers, he said, it should mean extension of the dairy and livestock industry, possibly using greater quantities of coarse grains from the prairies for feed.

"It may well be advisable for the Dominion to absorb freight rates from west to east on feed grain as a permanent feature of national policy," he said.

An expanding world economy, both agricultural and industrial, should mean a higher general level of purchasing power for the rank and file of the people in all lands.

He said more mutual trust in international affairs would establish stability in farm production and provide security for people on the land.

AGRICULTURAL BETTERMENT MEANS FARMER MUST HAVE WAYS TO IMPROVE BUSINESS

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que.—Agricultural reconstruction must start with the farmer himself and he must have facilities whereby he can improve his business, Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of Dominion experimental farms, said here.

"This obviously involves cheaper credit comparable at least to that which is available in industry," he said in an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian chamber of commerce annual meeting.

Farmers would prefer fair prices for their products without subsidies, bonuses, subventions and the like, he added.

"In my opinion 75 per cent. of the urban consumers of foodstuffs, if questioned at the present time, would claim that the farmers of Canada were not only highly prosperous but, thinking of terms of retail prices, may still be and the farmers as extortionists and robbers."

"It is true that leading businessmen realize that the producers of our foodstuffs are paying income taxes in such small numbers, not of their own choice, but for the simple reason that the earning power in labor income on the average farm in Canada, even with the free labor of wife and children thrown in, is little less than that which industry and governments pay to a grade I stenographer."

Next to the farmer's own ability, the condition of the soil would continue to govern food production. There had to be conservation, rehabilitation and adequate fertilization.

Soil surveys were beginning to show the potential weaknesses and danger signals. Millions of acres of good soil were "getting out of kilter" and needed study and attention.

Many farm machines now were obsolete, and with the farmer's present buying power he stood a poor chance of adequately re-equipping his farm with the most modern labor-saving machinery. Without doubt modern labor-saving machinery would to a greater extent be co-operatively owned or operated by farmers.

"Canadian farmers must have more modern farm machinery and power, must have it at a much reduced price, and must have it so standardized that repairs and replacements will be vastly cheaper than in the past."

Research work had to be extended, with the development of new grain varieties, new and improved types of fruits and vegetables, and new systems of preservation. Industry must encourage enlarged soybean production, in association with the development of other uses for farm products, Dr. Archibald said.

CANADIAN PARACHUTE UNIT IN BRITAIN HAS BEEN MERGED WITH A BRITISH DIVISION

LONDON.—It was learned that the Canadian parachute unit in Britain has been merged with a British parachute division and is preparing for action with it.

There had been conjecture since formation of the unit was announced whether it would be fitted into the Canadian overseas army and if so, how.

Training was presumably means it "went in" as part of the British formation similar to the way the Canadian 1st Division joined the British 8th Army in Sicily and continued with Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery in Italy.

The knowledge added further to speculation whether any plans to keep the Canadians as an entity are definitely shelved.

On the other hand, it also raised the possibility that the Britain-based Canadians—the overseas army is known to contain five divisions, three infantry, two armored—will be used as part of the spearhead of a big British or Allied army in some future action in which parachute troops would figure as they did with the American 7th Army in Sicily.

In this event Canadian paratroops would still be fighting with Canadians.

The parachute unit has been in Britain for some months adding to the training gained at Fort Benning, Ga., and Shilo, Man.

OTTAWA.—Employment of the Canadian parachute unit in Britain with a British airborne division is a matter for Canadian military authorities overseas, it was stated at defence headquarters.

(A London despatch said it was learned the battalion is preparing for action with a British division.)

The Canadian policy applicable to the whole army overseas is that it is ready to serve in whole or in part wherever the high command considers it can best contribute to victory. The 1st division was detached from the Canadian army and sent to Sicily and later to Italy with the British 8th Army.

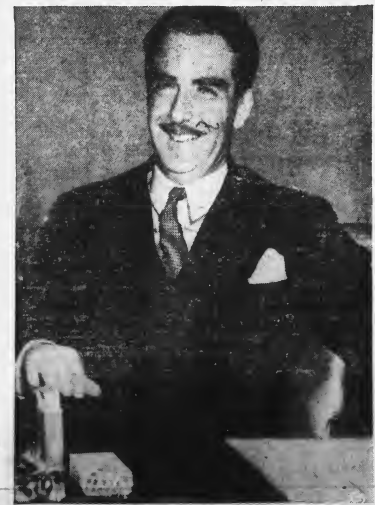

It is expected other Canadian units and formations may from time to time serve with larger British or other composite United Nations forces as conditions warrant.

NEWCASTLE.—British scientists have designed a new type of fireplace which turns smoke into flame and increases by 500 per cent. the heat intensity of the burning coal, J. G. Bennett, director of the British Coal Utilization Research Association, has disclosed.

HISTORIC TRIPARTITE CONFERENCE HELD IN MOSCOW

The historic tripartite conference of British, United States and Russian foreign ministers held in Moscow. Molotov struck the keynote as Anthony Eden and Cordell Hull arrived at a Moscow airport. They were watching a guard of honor pass, when Molotov remarked, "Diplomats must learn from soldiers who keep in step harmoniously, and we also must keep in step." Here are the big three as they appeared at other important conference tables. On the left is Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov in the spring of 1942, as he was photographed during a conference with President Roosevelt in Washington. In the centre is Britain's foreign minister, Anthony Eden, and at the right U.S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull also pictured during important conferences in Washington.

WILTON—FLYNN

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed on Saturday, October 30 at 4 p.m. by Rev. Dr. G. W. Kirby at his residence in Calgary, uniting in marriage Miss Joanna Flynn, R.N., younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Flynn of Coleman and Lieutenant H. W. Wilton, R.C.O.C., only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wilton of Nelson, B.C. Attendants were Miss Bell Flynn, B. Com., Edmonton, sister of the bride, and Corporal Gordon Batley of Red Deer. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Empress hotel with covers laid for twelve. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J. Haining of Calgary, who with his wife formerly resided in Coleman and are long friends of the bride's family. Response to the toast was made by the groom. A few complimentary remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Kirby. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake.

The young couple left Sunday evening to spend their honeymoon at Nelson, B.C. where they will visit the groom's parents. They will visit in Coleman for a few days on their return to Calgary where they will make their home. Lieutenant Wilton is stationed at the army camp at Red Deer.

Victory Loan Show At Palace Tuesday

The publicity department of the local Finance Committee, through the courtesy of Wm. Cole, brought to the Palace screen on Tuesday afternoon five short features pertaining to the Fifth Victory Loan. Action of the Canadian troops was vividly shown. Also shown were the German gangsters responsible for starting the world conflict.

Loan Sales manager Wilfrid Dutil gave a spirited address to the audience on bonds and prevailed on them to buy bonds to the limit of their financial ability and encouraged them to talk bond sales with their friends and neighbors. At this particular time the local unit still required $30,000 to reach its objective and he warned that it would take hard work on the part of the canvassers to get this amount unless the citizens gave the campaign added support. He read a cable just received by this unit and written by Major-General G. G. Simonds asking Canadians to buy an extra bond to aid the Canadian boys fighting in Italy.

Prepare your future now. Buy 3% Victory Bonds.

CARD OF THANKS

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion wish to thank Mr. Dutil for his kindness in displaying Soldier's Parcel and the general public for their great help in buying tickets on the same, also for the generous response we had from all other sources to help us with our work—Secretary.
